THE NATURALIZATION OF THE CETACEAN NATION by 5-Track and Abalone Sandwich

I've also been digging the tripped out lo-fi oceanic world according to THE NATURALIZATION OF THE CETACEAN NATION by 5-Track and Abalone Sandwich, a shambling and ambient quartet that starts off something like my own 'Ringed Hills of Ver' (from RITE 2) before descending into a series of long and distant coastal wah-guitar meditations that send listeners to the edge of Catatonia. Imagine generic free rock bubbling through a 2" shortwave radio speaker overheard on an Ibiza beach whilst swimming close to the shore, and you've nailed these guys' metaphor completely. When you're in these guys' company, time evaporates and everyday is Southern Sardinia. By the way, their album is available from guitarist 5-track, via his own website at www.5-track.com or through his myspace site at www.myspace.com/fivespace.
